Be Prepared for a Medical Emergency

Even with the best planning and medical care, some trips to the emergency room can't be avoided. To help make those trips a little easier and less stressful, emergency physicians recommend that you prepare ahead of time for those unexpected emergencies by doing the following:

- Write down your health history and keep it in your wallet or purse. You may also want to keep a copy in your refrigerator along with the name and phone number of a friend or family member to call on your behalf. Many EMTs will know to look there. The health history should include:
  - Your medications, including vitamins, supplements and over-the-counter medicines
  - Allergies, current and past medical diagnoses and treatments, including any surgeries
  - The name and phone number of your doctor(s)

Forms are available to make this process easier... go to: http://www.emergencycareforyou.org/medicalforms.

2014 FUNDING UPDATE

Since the last newsletter edition, Washington has been working on the 2014 Federal budget. The House and Senate each have their own version of a budget in regards to amount of funding to be made available, whether or not sequestration will remain in effect, as well as program reform proposals. Since the 2014 Federal Fiscal Year begins October 1st, and considering 2013's full year Continuing Resolution, we are not confident that an actual budget will be passed in time.

Reminder......

If you have a maintenance problem, you MUST call the office at 724-548-7671 or 1-800-762-8291 and request a work order. You will not be charged unless the problem is due to your negligence or abuse; or, you request immediate attention for a problem that is not an emergency.

An emergency is anything that threatens your health or safety, such as, gas leaks, no heat, smoke detector not working, and major water leaks. A little problem that goes unreported can quickly turn into a big problem down the road, resulting in an inconvenience for you and your neighbors.
BIZARRE AND UNIQUE DAYS

In addition to the major holidays and special days we celebrate, check out these bizarre and unique days we might want to acknowledge!!

TEDDY BEAR DAY - SEPTEMBER 9TH

A Teddy Bear is a special friend, companion, and comforter. He's cuddly, cute, lovable and he can make you feel safe and secure because he's not afraid of the dark. President Theodore Roosevelt was a hunter. While hunting in Mississippi in 1902, he refused to shoot a small bear. The Washington Post picked up the story and made a cartoon of the event. Toy store owners, Morris and Rose Michtom, wrote to President Roosevelt for permission to call their stuffed animals "Teddy Bears". The bears became wildly popular, and their company went on to become the Ideal Toy Company, one of the largest toy companies in the world! So spend some time with your Teddy Bear and do all of your favorite things together. If you know someone without a Teddy Bear, use this day to give them one of their own!

TECHIES DAY - OCTOBER 3RD

Today's your chance to give your friendly technician some well deserved appreciation. When your PC goes down or gets a virus, your technician is invaluable, because he can get your system back up and running faster than you can say "gigabyte"! This day is not just for computer techies, it's for all of the people who work in highly skilled technical jobs. Make sure that your techie knows that he, or she, is appreciated. Give them a big "TY", maybe a small token gift, or simply a card or send an e-card. Taking good care of your techie will reap you dividends when you need him. So let's give a big hand and a thanks to all techies, from all fields, on this special day. They're the Best!!

SAXOPHONE DAY - NOVEMBER 6TH

The saxophone is a classical brass instrument that is an essential piece in jazz, symphonic, and marching bands. It's only fitting that this great instrument has its own day. The saxophone was invented around 1840 by Adolphe Sax, a Belgian musical instrument maker, born on this day in 1814. He invented 8 types of saxophones: Soprano, Soprano Alto, Tenor, Baritone, Bass, Contrabass and Subcontrabass. The first saxophone created was the Bass saxophone, and a 9th type, the Soprillo Saxophone, was invented in 2004 and is the smallest of the saxophones. Some famous sax players include: John Coltrane, Stan Getz, Coleman Randolph Hawkins "Hawk", James Moody, Charlie "The Bird" Parker and Lester Prez Young. If you ever wanted to play the saxophone, today would be the day to pucker up and give it a go!!

BAKE COOKIES DAY - DECEMBER 18TH

Ya just have to love Bake Cookies Day! What an opportune time for this special day, right amidst the major December holidays. It serves as a reminder to bake those holiday cookies, if you haven't done so already. Everyone can celebrate by baking their favorite cookies. Make a party of it and bake your cookies in groups, with family, friends, kids and grandkids. And, don't stop at baking just one kind of cookie. Plan to bake a number of cookies. Try a new recipe, or two, or three, or... If you bake more than you can eat, good for you! You can wrap up gift trays filled with all those wonderfully delicious home-made cookies for your family, friends, and neighbors. Many cookies freeze well, so you can save some of those "extra" cookies for a special treat after the holidays. It's surprising that such a special day as Bake Cookies Day is not immediately followed by "Eat Cookies Day"! Happy Baking (and eating!!)
HOTLINE

The Housing Authority provides an after-hours service that will take phone calls. Please be reminded that this service is to be used for EMERGENCY situations only.

Residents are placing after-hours calls to the answering service, then telling the operator that it's not an emergency, or stating that it can wait until the next business day! This causes confusion for both the answering service staff and Authority staff, as well as taking staff time away from situations that are real emergencies and need immediate attention. Remember, if it can wait...PLEASE don't call! An emergency is a situation that threatens the health or safety of a person, or has the potential to cause property damage, such as gas leaks, no heat, major water leaks, smoke detector not working, fires (911), etc.

All non-emergency calls, such as issuing complaints, asking for information, requests to change light bulbs, or other routine business should be made during regular business hours. Also, since we are billed per call, unnecessary after-hours calls increase the cost of this service.

We "Thank You" for your cooperation.

It's school time again! You're probably feeling excited and maybe a little sad that summer's over; maybe even a little scared or nervous about that first day because of all the new teachers, new friends, and maybe even a new school.

Usually on the first day, the teachers will do most of the talking. Be sure to pay close attention as your teacher goes over the classroom rules. If you're moving from middle school to junior high, getting assigned a locker and a homeroom may be a new experience for you.

Seeing old friends you haven't seen in a while can make the first day go smoother. Make your first day special by wearing an outfit or jewelry that shows off your personal style.

Another way to make your first day a good one is to be prepared by packing your backpack with all the necessary basics: pencils, folders, notebooks, etc. If you load up your backpack the night before, it prevents the morning panic when you can't find your supplies or lunch bag!

Use the first day to get oriented. This is your first chance to find your way around a new school, or learn some new pathways to new classes in your old school. There's a lot to learn on the first day, so don't be shy about making yourself some notes so you'll remember the important stuff, like your locker combination and the start of the lunch period.

What happens if you get off to a bad start and you hate school by the end of day one? Give it some time...you just need to sort some things out and get adjusted to the new routine...then you'll probably feel much better. If those feelings don't fade, talk to someone, your mom, dad, teacher, or school counselor.

Here's a few tips for a fantastic school year:
- get enough sleep
- eat a healthy breakfast
- always try to do your best
- practice good work habits like writing down assignments and turning your homework in on time
- if you don't understand something, ask
- keep a sense of humor

Medical Emergency Preparedness

- If you have a cell phone, program I-C-E (In Case of Emergency) into it with the name and number of someone who knows you and your medical history, in the event that you are unable to speak for yourself.

- Bring any legal papers related to your medical care with you, such as: a power of attorney; living will, advanced directive or do not resuscitate order (DNR). It is also very important that your family is aware of your wishes when it comes to medical care. Like your medical history, keep these documents in a visible place, or assure that a friend or family member has a copy.

- Be prepared for a hospital stay by taking a change of clothes and whatever personal items you may need (eyeglasses, etc.).

- Take something to read or do, such as a crossword puzzle...it will keep you calmer and help to pass the time. This is also a good idea for anyone who might go with you to the emergency room.

- Don't downplay your symptoms. Treating physicians need complete information from you in order to provide you with the best possible care.

- Lastly, be patient! Diagnosing and treating an illness or injury can take hours. If you feel you need more attention than you are getting, ask to speak to a patient advocate.

Any and all of these actions are greatly appreciated. Please, pretty please, consider:

Turn off the lights when leaving the room. Use cold water when washing clothes. Unplug electric items when not in use.

Report plumbing leaks. Change light bulbs from inefficient incandescents to CFL's. Use the short wash cycle on dishwashers and laundries...

Quit smoking! Recycle. Use microwave oven to cook small meals! Take shorter showers.

A thousand thank you and more.
